

ISLAMIC YOUTH DISCUSSION SERIES

About the series

Join a series of interactive and guided discussions for Muslim teenagers and young adults exploring important questions about faith, life, and identity in today's world.

Each session is carefully designed, drawing on authentic Islamic knowledge and structured learning from the Yaqeen Institute and al-Nasiha Publications curricula, combined with thoughtful discussion, reflection, and real-life application.

Aims

These sessions aim to help young Muslims:

- ✓ understand Islam thoughtfully and strengthen core beliefs and practices;
- ✓ build clarity about their identity and develop confidence in living as Muslims;
- ✓ engage positively and constructively with the world around them;
- ✓ ask honest questions and express their ideas confidently in English.

Join the conversation. Interactive discussions.

How do I stay
strong in my faith?

How do I build a real connection with Allah?

How do I live Islam
in today's world?

What we will explore

	Faith and belief	• Why do we believe in Islam? • What are the core articles of faith, what do they mean today? • How are these beliefs questioned in the modern world, and how do we respond?
	Life and struggles	• Why does Allah test us? • How do we deal with hardship, anxiety, and uncertainty? • What does Islam teach about purpose and meaning?
	Identity and character	• What does it mean to be a Muslim today? • How do we build strong character and self-discipline? • How do we live Islam confidently in everyday life?
	Contemporary challenges	• Social media, addiction, and distractions • Materialism and societal expectations • Navigating Islam in a non-Muslim society
	Essentials and devotional practice	• Strengthening the essentials of daily worship and purification • Developing habits that support a practicing Muslim lifestyle • Learning from the life of the Prophet and applying it today
